

Political manipulation

Alexander Hamilton once said: “Man is a reasoning rather than a reasonable animal.”

This statement means that man will not necessarily act in a reasonable manner. He may become reasonable if it is reasoned into him.

Today, if you have no reasoning ability (cognitive skills) you become brain dead and fall for any sort of scams imaginable.

This document therefore, requires reasoning and not the typical Ant's Perspective.

Some people reason that they were held captive for more than two hundred years because they were Black. I rubbish that argument when I look at a case like Elizabeth Blackwell who was not Black; but endured a trauma in order to gain her medical degree; a form of mental terrorism.

You see, Man would enslave his own mother if she was calm and stupid enough.

There is a trend in politics to focus on symptom rather than cause; and thus we must prevent the cause of something wrong, adverse or cruel; because if we do not, the chains may return; not only on Blacks, but on a nation or the world.

Mental illness :

Recently in India a man killed 14 of his siblings and then killed himself.

The infamous LAPD killed dozens in 2015, including over two dozen mentally ill while schizophrenics merely look on.

Many people will ask why is there such madness in town. Well, the man may have been a schizophrenic all along; we know schizophrenic are generally killers. We work with them, and we mingle with them every day.

Our politicians ignore mental health issues because that discipline is categorized as terrorism; that is, if one speaks about mental illness, he or she may be called a terrorist.

We have noticed that the psychiatric Systems Manual has widened its definitions. For example if you cannot read, we may not report that you are malnourished, we may say that you are mentally ill; an illness which carries a stigma of major proportions. Why? Instead of providing the necessities for the poor, it is easier to call them ‘mad people’ instead. We should carefully notice that the mentally ill are not reflected in plans formulated by most politicians because the ‘.ticians’ like to “have their cake and eat it too”; whatever that means. Unfortunately these ‘.ticians’ are unlikely to be a victim of a crime or adverse action caused by the ‘decompensation’ of a person of unsound mind.

We must speak up for the mentally ill because the illness is not always hereditary; it creeps upon you just like a snake. You see, people do not generally speak up for the poor because being poor is one of the most degenerative sins. Should one speak up to ameliorate the conditions of poor people, he or she will be vilified. Therefore, it is not strange for someone who has “reached”, to simply “hang with the Joneses” and ignores the people with whom he or she dwell prior.

Robert Nesta Marley warned those with the Ant's Perspective long ago: "Emancipate yourself from mental slavery."

Instead, the populace believes all sort of lies; many of these lies have become historical 'facts'.

The things we learn and believe are all devised and disseminated by Man who infiltrates and controls Hollywood, the Mainstream media, certain vital sections of government, the church, and certain goods and services. Take for example the Bible; it does not matter how poverty stricken someone is, he has a copy of the Bible in his house and he believes that Jesus will return one day. This myth has being around for ages; in fact they used to tell us that Jesus would return in the year 2000.

How did Man get such a strict control over his lesser beings? He entered through the cracks. Why does Man seek such control? He gains money and power and he has the ability to cover up wrong doing.

The common learner does not turn his TV and radio to independent media, or conduct research on history, religion, economics, geography and politics, etc from independent sources. For example, the archaic character may not observe that the chicanery "pulled off" by politicians today, was the same one they perpetrated several times in the past. The person with the Ants Perspective believes that every conspiracy theory is only a theory and never a fact; and Man therefore likes when you think that way, because he will always conduct conspiracies.

United Nations

Man has "watered down" the United Nations so the He can do whatever He likes. Today every little trickster wants to stay in power for eternity; and so when his legal term expires he adamantly refuses to leave office.

We need to re-install the "teeth", and authority into the UN whereby, when a fellow does his political term in office and starts with his Tomfoolery, he is rapidly and forcefully thrown out of office. As a matter of fact politicians must be initiated with the proviso: "Your mandatory term limit is..."

This procedure is necessary because when a person sits on the 'fence' for several years grinding his teeth, with only water in his pot, and waiting for the gravy train; only to hear that the incumbent politician will be illegally staying on; the waiting party becomes angry; and rightly so.

This trend to gain power by tricks, below the Equator has been done frequently; and as a result opposition groups have sought to exact revenge which cause blood shed.

"War is a racket." General Smedley Butler.

The maiming, killing, robbing and raping amounts to a definite racket.

There is also a need to advise, forcefully the Man who decides to engage in war, that He must rebuild the enemy's territory upon cessation of hostilities. Yet another strict instruction is to be leveled against those with war motives: "No war without the sanction of the UN." Was the UN created to prevent war?

Today, Man creates war upon another in a "jiffy" because he knows that he can get away with it. His citizenry will not remind him that God said: "Thou shall not kill." Yet so many of them walk around with Bible on their chests talking about their belief in Christianity.

This one is also needed: The UN must discipline war criminals fairly. The so-called International Court must punish war criminals, without exception.

It was President Eisenhower who learned his lesson and sought to advise us regarding the Military Industrial Complex. Who are these guys? They are the military and others who profit from the military escapades.

You see, there are not a lot of Bill Gates and Steve Jobs who gain their wealth by academic prowess and professionalism. There are many millionaires who live opulent lives through scams; and the best methodology for them, is to use dunces to achieve riches. A man who wants to have his competitor “done in” does not call his fellow academic at the university to conduct a “hit”; he calls a dunce; a poor fool eager for a dime.

A politician who wants to maim, kill and rob, does not select a company’s vice chairman to go to war. He selects the poor soldier who for some strange reason, never ask: “Do we really have to do it?”

The politician will not like to campaign in Beverly Hills because no one likes him there. He is welcomed in poverty stricken areas where his plank is stuffed with words and phrases craved by poor people.

Do you see why the Establishment likes poor people? After all, it was Columbus who devised the ‘conquering methodology by charm’. He argued that the Bible was the best tool. It states that the rich is doomed; he cannot enter heaven unless he enters the eye of a needle. Man - this was a masters stroke! The impious rich were then able to enslave millions of people with the Bible and a few rods. The rich do not feel the pain of poverty because, the taxes levied by governments do not generally affect the rich. They simply add a percentage to their goods to cover taxes.

Conspiracy:

Man is apt to consider an argument total nonsense if the presenter cannot produce factual reasoning. The ordinary persons believe in the news from main stream media; while not knowing that the media is controlled by cronies and families; whereby reporters must obey strict guidelines regarding material to be published.

A story may sound silly until the facts are carefully dissected. You see, one has to prove his point to be taken seriously. Take for example this hypothetical story: John said that he was robbed by a clergyman Father Pegano, while he [John] was walking down the street. The Doubtful Thomas immediately refutes the claim because the victim miscalculated the distance from one point to the other. It is the duty of dis-info strategists to concentrate on the point where there may be a mistake in order to rubbish the whole story. And surprisingly Thomas gets a multitude to throw “cold water” on the story of John even though Father Pegano has the loot in a bag right in his hand.

Conspiracies are rampant these days because the scientists have been murdered and the investigative journalists are few. Men like Fletcher Prouty, Mark Lane, and Big Jim Garrison are needed today. Thanks to Loose Change creators, Rense, Info wars, Judge, Briley, Drs. Jim Fetzer, and Jim Marrs, and a few others, there is still the will, to expose criminality.

Is the mosquito business a conspiracy against poor people? Take brother Ades Egypti – he went and secured dengay, then Chickungunya; which focused on people's joints; and then he secured Zika, a virus to create invalids. What an ingenious brother? As for the Zika, could this be genetic editing in disguise? Do you see why so many renowned scientists were 'done in'?

Racism and the Police:

The trend "Black Lives Matter" may sound like utter nonsense to some because they are out of the ghetto, or they are and are not Black. There are some who say: "I do not care, I am not Black."

Recently I watched a video of an alleged Black wrongdoer running from the police and was chased and shot. The accused fell and had no means of running again; yet the policeman stooped down to handcuff him. Why the hell would an officer handcuff a suspect who is almost lifeless? The next thing I saw was not an ambulance, but a fire truck which raced to the scene.

Why the handcuff and fire truck instead of the ambulance? Answer. The accused should expire and the fire truck was for 'sanitizing' the crime scene before investigators arrived.

Why this kind of action by some policemen?

Let us look at the 'crooks of the matter': The police do what they are told or what they see others doing. Policemen follow orders from their individual departments and not necessarily from any central office; so that when an order is giving in one department, it does not necessarily resonate in another. And, we have to focus on the mentality of the shooter. He may not think of the Black man as anyone who deserves better. You see, those slaves worked for over two hundred years for the bosses. During slavery the boss and his son, or grandson, did not see any Black men working in banks, corporations, law firms, or as judges and politicians. Today however, while the policeman is walking the "beat" in a foot of snow he is likely to observe a Black man driving past in a Bentley or Mercedes Benz.

The racism may even occur in the Police hierarchy whereby there may be Black officers giving orders to White subordinates. What do you think happens when the grandson of a 'boss' goes home and complains about a 'boy': "Pappy, guess who gave me orders today?"

Today one could get arrested for even going to a police department to ask for a form to file a complaint. How dare you? We control things and we do not settle for complaints. Poor Obama, he was just one activist among a barn of thorns.

The answer to resolving the misunderstanding regarding the "change" from plastic slippers to brogue; from corn pone to caviar; and from pickaxe to suit and tie, has to be addressed not at police departments; but by the government at the Justice Department. The Justice Department must step in to issue policies to the people who are in the public domain to follow the new rules of the game.

Another argument being highlighted by young scholars is the concept to remove emblems, and statues of ancient racists. Some have sought to argue that the statue or emblem do not hurt. However, if we examine the situation in Iraq. The "Coalition" did not leave the bad man Saddam's statues erect; they pulled them down to the ground.

Gun Control:

Ralph Waldo Emerson stated: "The less government we have the better - ...less confided power. The antidote to this abuse of formal government is the influence of private character, the growth of the individual."

The US Constitution allows the citizenry the right to bear arms; that is arms for hunting, gaming and protection. Both sides, the pro and against seem to lack compromise which can be easily done; even though some people do not want any rules because they live by the gun.

How can there be a simply compromise? Firstly, we can, by seeking consensus to obey the simply rules.

The citizenry needs guns but we do not need guns to practice warfare, or go to war; therefore the rifles which pump massive rounds per minute are for the soldiers. There is absolutely no question about that.

Why would a twenty year old man want a machine gun; and why would a dunce sell a machine gun to a youngster? Let us not twist and manipulate the meaning of the 'right to bear arms' philosophy of the founding fathers. Yes, they said there is a right but they did not mean kindergarten students should bear arms. We have a right to vote but a 10 year old does not have such a right. One's 'Right' is matched with his age.

We know that a man does not really buy a gun to seek employment; and a machine gun emitting several rounds in rapid succession, does not give anyone the ability to engage in target practice. Therefore my view on a gun seller who hands a bushmaster, AK 47, Enforcer, etc, etc, to a civilian, must automatically be jailed for incompetence and stupidity.

The gun seller can prevent controversy by giving the proper purchaser a gun and safety manual even if the buyer states that he is a gun manufacturer.

The Congress cannot be entertained as a joke. It has the responsibility to enact amendments to correct misconceptions in the Constitution ; and so a president should not be begging them to enact gun control laws. The forefathers gave right to gun ownership, not right to war weapons.

Lately a few thugs have sought to jump into the anti-gun campaign by using terrorism to confound the populace with incidents of false-flag terrorism, which then urge citizens to buy guns on a massive scale. Some of the buyers cannot even handle these weapons and therefore are at risk to themselves and other people. One funny but terrible scene occurred recently when I was standing among a group of men, when one decided to pull his weapon thinking he was at the circus. He attempt to pull the gun from his pocket when a thread held the trigger and the bullet blasted off his toes.

Alarming and terrorizing a nation with false flag terrorism is illegal. My view to terrorism is not racial; and so I believe that any character who commits an act of terror must be punished.

Every worker should carry this quote when he enters the work place:

"A man should live with his superiors as he does with his fire; not too near, less he burn; and not too far off, less he freeze." Diogenes (412-323BC)

I was about to get a job once, when a professor asked: "Who owes the obligation; is it the employee or the employer?" The answer did not emerge quickly so he said: "Both employer and employee owe the obligation; the employee works and the employer pays."

Frankly there is a right for both parties to respect. Each party has a duty.

Something caught my attention recently; Blacks complained that they were not selected for awards. Firstly, instead of complaining about awards, we should be looking at the products produced by Blacks to ascertain whether they qualify to earn awards because the Oscar is not a civil rights organization. Should one discern that there are products which qualify for the Oscar, then he or she does not have to beg, but point out the credibility of a product, and demand that it be selected. And furthermore, Blacks should understand that Hollywood is not 'reality' there are so many phonies there.

The Blacks in Hollywood should also consider setting up an award show for themselves. Slavery and racism might exist in the awards panel, but we should ignore that and create one for Blacks. After all, the Oscar is their invention.

This brings me to performance; we cannot simply go to work, we must exhibit exceptional performance instead to looking for favors.

On the subject of employment, there are some workers who do not deserve their pay. Their mannerisms, abilities, and actions are woefully inept; and contrary to popular beliefs, this problem is not for employers alone to address.

Some parents seem to harbor the myth that our children and other family problems should be addressed by governments. But the governments have no such responsibilities, even though their viability depend on the abilities of the citizenry. The global ethics today require proficiency, punctuality, politeness, expediency, etc; and we must deliver. Those who have very limited abilities, will defame, maim, destabilize and kill to survive. We cannot, for example pluck chickens for sale, and leave hair all over the products, and expect others to buy them with pleasure. An appointment at 9am does not mean 10:00, as customary in some domains.

Another thing - an ambassador, business man, student or traveler should be an orator especially when he goes abroad. He or she cannot land in Munich speaking about: "Is you ready for the meeting?" Or "I would like corn pone for lunch." The menus in Black Bottom, Rio, London or Munich; and anywhere else, are not the same.

Peace or war:

"I am a man of peace. God knows how I love peace..." Louis Kossuth (1802-1894)

One who seeks peace could very soon be labeled as a terrorist. We are getting there! Terrorism has become a trillion-dollar business, whereby, the terrorists commit their crimes, and then classify the facts.

They are now enacting laws all over the world to hide information from the people; and they get away with it with the support of the 'Jesus groups' who are people bent on accepting and adoring the Bible teachings. For example, the 'Jesus group' believe that at the time of the 'second coming' there will be 'wars and rumors of wars'; a concept embedded into their heads by 'tricksters' who foresaw the need to trick and treat for their survival.

Very few persons seek peace these days because it is not a money-maker.

There is the talk about "peak oil" and "land grab" for survival purposes; and so plans are in place to create chaos in order to achieve the objectives. The components of this plan to conquer involve turmoil, theft and war; therefore, the 'scammers' utter to their cronies: "You will get the land and we get the oil."

Frankly, if one alerts his cronies of a plan to get rich, he will convene a large crew of thugs vying for a piece of the pie; as in the September 11 situation. There fellow terrorists will condone and support every action of the perpetrator so long as crumbs will come their way. We saw a recent trick whereby a terrorist group was created to steal and sell oil cheap, while we pretend to fight a strong man.

In order to engage in everlasting wars, we hear of reasons to remove 'strong men', our former buddies and fellow criminals. Yes, these strong men are vile and commit all kinds of atrocities; but the question is: "Who do we install in the strong men's positions?"

I do not know if we have noticed that it is very difficult to replace a strong man with anyone who has better qualities. As a matter of fact, in some regions there must be strong men, because if we eliminate them the domains crumble into total chaos. Strong men keep the tribal culture 'in check' and often times we should make peace with those strong men for the benefit of all of us.

The strong man is like a snake charmer, he has the skills to manage the tribes.

"Who cares?" Ask the politician and the military. The fact is that the military must keep its 'teeth' sharp and the tiger must be fed.

One will be puzzled by the wanton degenerative behavior of some citizens who never learn from previous mistakes or occurrences. They 'fall' for every scheme which emerges. Every time the politicians make war and cause the mass extinction of many sons and daughters, they, the parents and the Veterans suffer most. As for the 'Vets', many of them wander from the madhouse to the poorhouse; while the warmongers bank accounts are filled with loot.

There is however, is a little group which benefits from the chaos every time. The group's history reveals that they survive through programs of black mail, lies, cheating, plagiarism, and slavery. Frankly, if we continue Them, 'dog will eat our supper'.

There is a gravy train running right under our noses. The secret services and law enforcement agencies who uncover crimes committed by the politicians, could decide to cover up and plead for money as a means of black mail. Therefore you ask how come so-and-so agency did not investigate so-and-so? Investigations were done; and facts were gathered, but they were held because millions of dollars were collected by the investigators with the proviso: "Keep your mouth shut!".

Religion:

Christians believe that God is a racist and mischief-maker who sanctions every form of crime if the perpetrator has a Bible in his pocket. In most cases when a murderer has expired, there is a Bible in his pocket which he thought would protect him.

William Jefferson Clinton made a presentation in the UK once where he spoke about the 'box'.

A man of 'little academic worth' will cling to his little 'box' because that is all he has. He likes religion, politics, tribes, lodges, committees and any form of group where membership does not require academic credentials. Why he craves for such groups? An individual who is not academically endowed must carry his 'little box' with him all the times. You see, he has the delusion that he is a part of something even though often times, he is the only one who knows that he is a member of the group.

Man wrote the Bible for his own benefit; and he was not inspired by anyone or any Being. We see in many chapters that the Bible's sanctioning of most forms of violence and unethical acts; is vivid including those which the terrorists love so much - maiming and killing.

Before the reader start yelling 'nonsense'; please read and digest the following verses and then admit which one you condone:

Zachariah 14: verses 1 & 2

2 Samuel 11 & 12

Dueturonomy 22: 28-29

Exodus 21: 20-21

Leviticus 25: 44-46

Exodus 21: 7

1 Peter 2:18

There are many more but concentrate on these for a while.

Why do 'we' hate Islam?

The Arabs, though they have gone through decades of humiliation and abuse, were never held as slaves for any long periods, because, to use the Arab as a slave the master would have to place two eyes in the back of his head.

Yet another imbroglio is the fact that the Arab is not afraid of death. While the Christian will cringe when he observes the killing of his own, the Arab will wipe his tears and fix the murderer's business. Therefore the hatred for the Arab is the fact that he is never understood. The psychologist would never board the gravy train in the Middle East.

To some schizophrenics, they believe that anyone who is totally misunderstood whereby his mind cannot be controlled, he should be eliminated.

And finally, 'we' are not in the Middle East to assist Arabs; we are there because of the oil. Should these oil wells cease to produce wealth, the Man would back up his 'brimstones' and 'hellfires' and return home in a giffy.

Terrorism and Targeted Killings:

Terrorism was invented as a masters stroke whereby bandits could bilk the United States tax payers out of billions of dollars. A lot of foreign governments are creating terrorism laws. In one publicized case the politician in this foreign country robbed millions while claiming to fight terror. The government handed him millions to purchase fighter jets and weapons; and he did buy the weapons but he gave them to the terrorists. Terror is a headache for some and a gravy train for others.

I surmize that the keen observers have noticed that a large number of renoun scientists have been murdered, or should I say, we suspected that they were murdered by mere 'ants'; who did not have any ability other than playing ball..

We should also note carefully that large numbers of journalists too have been murdered.

Frankly, we must ask – Why?

Let us look carefully and examine the reasons: There are some criminals who are bent on keeping the scam 'ball' rolling in order to maintain statuses. With the 'terrorism' crusade, the journalists were thorns in the sides of the real terrorists; and so in the 'eyes' of the warriors, the truth in time of war could NOT be tolerated.

In the case of the scientists, thugs decided to murder them so that science would not be any deciding factor in certain situations. For example, 'Frankensteins' have been creating biological viruses in their laboratories; which must be tested. We know from history, that bioterrorism has been tested upon citizens and combatants. The real terrorists do not want the scientists to be around to test, identify and explain the kind of material or virus being used. The scientists were 'done in' because pharmaceuticals wants to rake in billions via bioterrorism. Imagine creating a virus like Zika - before a cure is announced, millions may die. Frankly, should the pharmaceuticals publish a cure too soon, they would not make money. And, most importantly, there are no scientists to invent remedies.

You see, the intent of the real terrorists was accidentally leaked by one of the parrots when he stated that his group was on a crusade. We know from previous crusades, that the order of its business is robbery, slander, polarization, plundering, and control.

Soldiers lose their lives too – sometimes, not because of combat or misbehavior, but because of telling the truth. One lady [Hyde] was very distressed about the army which was unable to account for her son. The media article regarding Ms. Hyde said: “To lose a child in war is a nightmare. But when your quest to find them is met with lies and abuse its a nightmare that never ends.”

The populace will not empathize with Ms. Hyde. After all it seems she has a problem which they do not see; because, the rich, and the politicians, do not ever see their sons and daughters going to fight anyone in some foreign country.

In the terrorism business, the foot soldiers fail to comprehend the goals of the organizers.; and the possible implications for actually committing terror. The real terrorists employ people who are acting like the living dead. These foot soldiers have very little brain power, and so they obey their masters, while ignoring the gallows waiting for them. For example, at the International Court they are considering bringing in those who destroy culture.

It should be carefully noted that while the real terrorists are in foreign lands creating chaos, they are busy at home, tightening freedom, limiting rights, and robbing the tax payers at the banks and at Knox.
